

NEXORA TECHNOLOGIES PVT. LTD.

EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

Document ID: HR-HBK-001

Version: 3.0

Effective Date: January 1, 2026

Last Reviewed: December 15, 2025

Document Owner: Human Resources Department

Classification: Internal Use Only

1. WELCOME TO NEXORA

Welcome to Nexora Technologies Pvt. Ltd.

Nexora is a technology company focused on building software, data, cloud, and artificial intelligence solutions for businesses across multiple industries.

Our employees are central to our success. This handbook provides general information about company policies, workplace expectations, employee benefits, leave, working arrangements, information security, professional conduct, and other important employment matters.

The handbook is intended to help employees understand how we work and what is expected from everyone at Nexora.

Employees are expected to read and follow the policies described in this handbook. Where a specific employment agreement, local law, or formally issued company policy provides different requirements, the applicable agreement, law, or policy will take precedence.

2. ABOUT THIS HANDBOOK

This handbook applies to all regular full-time and part-time employees of Nexora Technologies Pvt. Ltd., unless otherwise specified.

Certain policies may also apply to interns, contractors, consultants, temporary employees, and other third parties when explicitly stated.

The company may modify, replace, or withdraw policies when business requirements, legal requirements, or organizational circumstances change.

Employees will be notified of significant policy changes through official company communication channels.

This handbook does not constitute an employment contract or guarantee employment for any specific period.

3. COMPANY VALUES

Nexora expects employees to demonstrate the following values in their daily work.

3.1 Customer First

We build products and services that solve meaningful customer problems. Employees should understand customer requirements and prioritize quality, reliability, and measurable outcomes.

3.2 Ownership

Employees are expected to take responsibility for their work, commitments, decisions, and results.

Ownership includes communicating problems early rather than allowing issues to remain unresolved.

3.3 Integrity

Employees must act honestly, ethically, and professionally in all business activities.

Company records, customer information, financial information, and technical information must be handled accurately and responsibly.

3.4 Continuous Learning

Technology changes rapidly. Employees are encouraged to continuously develop their technical, professional, and business skills.

3.5 Respect

Employees must treat colleagues, customers, partners, and visitors with professionalism and respect regardless of role or seniority.

3.6 Collaboration

Nexora believes that strong teams outperform individuals working in isolation. Employees should share knowledge, communicate effectively, and support their teammates.

4. EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Nexora is committed to maintaining a professional workplace where employment decisions are based on qualifications, skills, experience, performance, and legitimate business requirements.

The company does not tolerate unlawful discrimination or harassment in employment-related decisions or workplace interactions.

Employment decisions may include:

- Recruitment
- Hiring
- Compensation
- Promotion
- Training
- Performance evaluation

- Transfer
- Work assignments
- Disciplinary action
- Termination

Employees who believe they have experienced discrimination or harassment should report the concern through the appropriate HR or grievance channel.

Reports will be handled appropriately and, where possible, confidentially.

5. WORKING HOURS

The standard working schedule for most employees is:

Monday through Friday

Standard working hours: 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM

Employees are generally provided a one-hour lunch break.

Certain teams may operate under different schedules depending on customer requirements, project requirements, shift arrangements, or business operations.

Employees must follow the working hours communicated by their manager or department.

6. ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY

Employees are expected to report to work on time and maintain regular attendance.

Repeated late arrivals, unexplained absences, or failure to follow attendance procedures may result in corrective action.

If an employee expects to be late or absent, they should inform their manager as early as reasonably possible.

For planned leave, employees must submit a leave request through the company's approved HR system.

For unexpected absence due to an emergency, employees should notify their manager or HR as soon as practical.

7. REMOTE AND HYBRID WORK

Nexora supports flexible working arrangements where business requirements permit.

Eligible employees may be permitted to work remotely or under a hybrid schedule based on:

- Role requirements
- Team requirements

- Customer commitments
- Performance
- Manager approval
- Information security requirements

Remote employees are expected to maintain normal working availability during agreed working hours.

Employees working remotely must have:

- A reliable internet connection
- A suitable work environment
- Access to required company systems
- Appropriate security controls
- A company-approved device where required

Employees must not allow unauthorized individuals to access company systems or confidential information while working remotely.

Working remotely does not eliminate normal performance, attendance, security, or communication expectations.

8. WORKPLACE CONDUCT

Employees are expected to behave professionally at all times.

The following behaviors are considered unacceptable:

- Threatening or abusive behavior
- Workplace violence
- Harassment
- Discrimination
- Intimidation
- Deliberate disruption of work
- Falsification of company records
- Unauthorized disclosure of confidential information
- Theft or misuse of company property
- Working under the influence of prohibited substances
- Retaliation against employees who raise legitimate concerns

Depending on the circumstances, violations may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

9. ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

Nexora is committed to providing a workplace free from harassment.

Harassment may include unwelcome verbal, physical, written, visual, or digital conduct that creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

Examples may include:

- Offensive jokes or comments
- Repeated unwanted communication
- Threatening behavior
- Inappropriate messages
- Unwelcome physical contact
- Offensive images or material
- Sexual harassment
- Bullying or intimidation

Employees who experience or witness inappropriate behavior are encouraged to report it promptly to HR, their manager, or the designated grievance channel.

Retaliation against an employee who makes a good-faith complaint is prohibited.

10. DRESS AND PROFESSIONAL APPEARANCE

Employees are expected to maintain a clean, professional, and appropriate appearance.

Dress requirements may vary depending on:

- Customer meetings
- Business events
- Office location
- Role requirements
- Safety requirements

Employees representing Nexora at customer locations or external events should follow any applicable customer or event dress requirements.

11. PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

Nexora uses a performance management process to help employees understand expectations, identify development opportunities, and evaluate performance.

Performance may be evaluated based on factors including:

- Quality of work
- Productivity
- Technical competency
- Problem-solving
- Communication
- Collaboration
- Customer impact
- Ownership
- Reliability
- Achievement of agreed objectives

Managers may provide feedback throughout the year.

Formal performance reviews are generally conducted annually, although additional reviews may occur depending on role, business requirements, or performance concerns.

Employees are encouraged to discuss career goals and development opportunities with their managers.

12. PROMOTIONS AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Promotions are based on business requirements, demonstrated capability, performance, experience, leadership, and readiness for increased responsibility.

Length of service alone does not guarantee promotion.

Employees interested in career development should discuss their goals with their manager and HR.

The company may provide access to:

- Internal training
 - Technical workshops
 - Mentoring
 - Learning resources
 - Certifications
 - Leadership development programs
-

13. COMPENSATION

Employee compensation is determined based on factors such as:

- Role
- Experience
- Skills
- Market conditions
- Internal compensation structure
- Individual performance
- Business requirements

Salary information is confidential and should be handled appropriately.

Employees should direct questions regarding compensation, payroll, deductions, or benefits to the HR or payroll team.

14. PAYROLL

Employees are paid monthly through the company's designated payroll process.

Employees are responsible for ensuring that HR has accurate personal and banking information.

Any discrepancy in salary, deductions, reimbursement, or payroll records should be reported to HR or Payroll promptly.

Employees should not attempt to modify payroll records or provide inaccurate information.

15. LEAVE POLICY

Employees may be eligible for different categories of leave according to company policy and applicable law.

Common leave categories include:

- Casual Leave
- Sick Leave
- Earned / Privilege Leave
- Public Holidays
- Maternity Leave
- Paternity Leave
- Bereavement Leave
- Other statutory leave where applicable

Leave eligibility and entitlement may vary according to employee classification, location, tenure, and applicable legislation.

Employees should submit leave requests through the approved HR system whenever possible.

16. SICK LEAVE

Employees who are unable to work due to illness should inform their manager as early as possible.

Medical documentation may be requested for extended periods of absence or where required by company policy.

Employees should not disclose unnecessary medical information to coworkers.

HR will handle required documentation according to applicable privacy requirements.

17. MATERNITY AND PARENTAL LEAVE

Eligible employees may receive maternity, paternity, parental, or other legally required leave according to applicable law and company policy.

Employees should contact HR in advance where reasonably possible to understand eligibility, documentation requirements, and the applicable leave process.

The company will not tolerate retaliation against employees for exercising legally protected leave rights.

18. BUSINESS TRAVEL

Employees may be required to travel for business purposes.

Business travel may include:

- Customer meetings
- Conferences
- Training
- Project activities
- Office visits
- Business development activities

Travel must generally be approved by the employee's manager before booking.

Reasonable and approved business expenses may be reimbursed according to the company's travel and expense policy.

Employees must submit required receipts and expense documentation within the specified period.

19. EXPENSE REIMBURSEMENT

Employees may be reimbursed for reasonable business expenses that are:

1. Necessary for business purposes
2. Approved where required
3. Supported by appropriate documentation
4. Submitted within the applicable deadline

Examples include:

- Business travel
- Accommodation
- Transportation
- Customer-related expenses
- Approved training expenses

Personal expenses are not reimbursable unless specifically authorized by company policy.

False or fraudulent expense claims may result in disciplinary action.

20. COMPANY PROPERTY

Company property must be used responsibly and primarily for legitimate business purposes.

Company property may include:

- Laptops
- Mobile devices
- Access cards
- Software licenses
- Security tokens
- Documents
- Equipment
- Company vehicles
- Other assigned assets

Employees are responsible for protecting company property assigned to them.

Lost or stolen company equipment must be reported immediately to IT and the employee's manager.

21. INFORMATION SECURITY

Information security is a responsibility shared by every employee.

Employees must:

- Protect passwords and authentication credentials
- Use multi-factor authentication where required
- Lock computers when unattended
- Avoid sharing company credentials
- Report suspicious emails
- Use approved software
- Store company information only in approved systems
- Follow data classification requirements
- Report suspected security incidents immediately

Employees must not disable security controls without authorization.

22. PASSWORD POLICY

Employees must create strong passwords and must not share passwords with other individuals.

Passwords should not be:

- Written on publicly visible notes
- Shared through chat
- Sent through email
- Reused across unrelated personal accounts

Where supported, employees must use multi-factor authentication.

If an employee believes their credentials have been compromised, they must immediately contact the IT or Security team.

23. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Employees may have access to confidential information during their employment.

Confidential information may include:

- Customer information
- Source code

- Product designs
- Business plans
- Financial information
- Pricing information
- Employee information
- Internal documentation
- Security information
- Proprietary algorithms
- Research and development information

Employees must not disclose confidential information to unauthorized individuals.

Confidentiality obligations may continue after employment ends.

24. DATA PRIVACY

Employees must handle personal data responsibly.

Personal data may include information relating to:

- Employees
- Customers
- Vendors
- Business partners
- Applicants

Employees should collect, access, use, store, and share personal information only when authorized and necessary for legitimate business purposes.

Any suspected unauthorized access, loss, disclosure, or misuse of personal information must be reported to the appropriate security or privacy team.

25. ACCEPTABLE USE OF TECHNOLOGY

Company systems are provided primarily for business purposes.

Employees may use company technology for limited personal activities where permitted, provided such use:

- Does not interfere with work
- Does not create security risks
- Does not violate company policy

- Does not involve illegal activity
- Does not create excessive costs

Employees must not use company systems to access, store, distribute, or transmit unlawful or inappropriate content.

26. ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE TOOLS

Employees may use approved artificial intelligence tools to improve productivity, research, coding, documentation, analysis, and other business activities.

However, employees must not enter confidential, sensitive, proprietary, or customer-restricted information into public AI systems unless the tool has been explicitly approved for that type of information.

AI-generated content must be reviewed by an employee before being used in business-critical work.

Employees remain responsible for the accuracy, security, legality, and appropriateness of work produced with AI assistance.

Examples of acceptable AI use may include:

- Drafting non-confidential documentation
 - Brainstorming
 - Code assistance
 - Summarizing approved information
 - Generating test cases
 - Research using approved tools
-

27. SOCIAL MEDIA

Employees are personally responsible for content they publish on social media.

Employees should not:

- Disclose confidential company information
- Publish customer information without authorization
- Represent personal opinions as official company statements
- Share internal documents
- Publish sensitive security information

Employees may identify themselves as Nexora employees but should clearly distinguish personal opinions from official company communications.

Only authorized employees may speak on behalf of Nexora in an official capacity.

28. CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Employees must avoid situations where personal interests conflict, or appear to conflict, with the interests of Nexora.

Potential conflicts may include:

- Outside employment with a competitor
- Personal financial interests involving a supplier
- Hiring or supervising close relatives without disclosure
- Accepting inappropriate gifts from vendors
- Using company information for personal benefit

Employees should disclose potential conflicts to their manager or HR.

Not every potential conflict represents a violation, but undisclosed conflicts may create serious concerns.

29. GIFTS AND BUSINESS COURTESIES

Employees may occasionally receive business gifts or hospitality from customers, suppliers, or business partners.

Employees must not accept gifts that could improperly influence business decisions.

Cash or cash-equivalent gifts should not be accepted.

Any gift that may create a conflict of interest should be disclosed to the employee's manager or HR.

30. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Work created by employees within the scope of their employment may belong to Nexora as provided by applicable agreements and law.

Employees must protect company intellectual property including:

- Source code
- Designs
- Technical documentation
- Research
- Algorithms
- Product concepts

- Business processes
- Internal tools

Employees must not use company intellectual property for unauthorized personal or external activities.

31. OPEN-SOURCE SOFTWARE

Employees involved in software development must follow company procedures when using open-source software in company products.

Employees must:

- Review applicable licenses
- Follow company approval procedures
- Avoid introducing unapproved dependencies
- Respect license obligations
- Document significant third-party components when required

Employees should contact the engineering or legal team when unsure about licensing requirements.

32. CODE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Software engineers and technical employees are expected to build systems responsibly.

Employees should consider:

- Security
- Privacy
- Reliability
- Maintainability
- Accessibility
- Fairness
- Safety
- Regulatory requirements

Technical decisions should prioritize long-term reliability over shortcuts that create unreasonable security or operational risks.

33. HEALTH AND SAFETY

Nexora is committed to maintaining a safe working environment.

Employees must follow applicable workplace safety procedures.

Employees should immediately report:

- Workplace hazards
- Injuries
- Unsafe equipment
- Fire hazards
- Security threats
- Other safety concerns

Emergency exits and safety equipment must remain accessible at all times.

34. ALCOHOL AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Employees must not report to work impaired by alcohol or prohibited substances.

The possession, distribution, or use of illegal substances on company premises is prohibited.

Employees attending company events are expected to behave responsibly and professionally.

35. REMOTE WORK SECURITY

Employees working remotely must take reasonable precautions to protect company information.

Employees should:

- Use secure Wi-Fi
- Avoid public computers
- Use company-approved VPN services where required
- Keep company devices updated
- Prevent unauthorized screen viewing
- Avoid discussing confidential matters in public areas
- Secure physical documents

Company devices must not be shared with family members or other unauthorized individuals.

36. COMMUNICATION AND COLLABORATION

Employees are expected to communicate professionally through:

- Email

- Internal messaging platforms
- Video conferencing
- Project management systems
- Documentation platforms

Employees should respond to work-related communications within a reasonable timeframe appropriate to their role.

Important project decisions should be documented in approved company systems rather than relying solely on informal conversations.

37. MEETINGS

Employees should attend required meetings on time and prepared.

Meeting organizers should clearly communicate:

- Purpose
- Required participants
- Agenda where appropriate
- Expected outcomes

Employees should avoid unnecessary meetings and respect colleagues' focus time.

38. REMOTE MEETING ETIQUETTE

Employees participating in virtual meetings should:

- Join on time
- Use an appropriate professional environment
- Mute microphones when not speaking
- Avoid unnecessary interruptions
- Protect confidential information visible on screen
- Use company-approved meeting platforms

Recording meetings requires appropriate authorization and notification to participants where required.

39. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Employees who have workplace concerns should first consider discussing the matter with their manager when appropriate.

Employees may also contact HR directly for matters involving:

- Harassment
- Discrimination
- Workplace misconduct
- Policy violations
- Unresolved workplace concerns
- Conflicts of interest
- Retaliation

Employees are encouraged to raise concerns in good faith and as early as possible.

40. WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION

Nexora encourages employees to report suspected serious misconduct, fraud, corruption, financial irregularities, security violations, or significant legal or policy violations.

Employees who raise concerns in good faith should not face retaliation for making a legitimate report.

Knowingly submitting false allegations may result in disciplinary action.

41. DISCIPLINARY ACTION

Failure to comply with company policies may result in corrective or disciplinary action.

Depending on the severity of the issue, actions may include:

1. Informal counseling
2. Formal warning
3. Performance improvement plan
4. Suspension where applicable
5. Final warning
6. Termination of employment

The company will consider the circumstances and severity of each case.

Serious misconduct may result in immediate disciplinary action.

42. EMPLOYEE RECORDS

Employees are responsible for keeping personal information provided to HR accurate and current.

Employees should notify HR when there is a change in:

- Address
- Phone number
- Emergency contact
- Bank information
- Legal name
- Other information required for employment records

Access to employee records is restricted to authorized personnel.

43. IT SUPPORT

Employees experiencing technical issues should contact the IT Helpdesk through the approved support channel.

IT support requests may include:

- Laptop issues
- Software installation
- Account access
- Password problems
- Network connectivity
- Security incidents
- Hardware issues

Employees should not install unauthorized software to resolve company device problems.

44. EMPLOYEE SEPARATION

Employees leaving Nexora must complete the applicable exit process.

Depending on the circumstances, this may include:

- Resignation submission
- Notice period
- Knowledge transfer
- Return of company property
- Access termination
- Exit interview

- Final settlement
- Benefits closure

Employees must return all company property and confidential materials before or upon separation as instructed.

45. RETURN OF COMPANY PROPERTY

Upon separation, employees must return company-owned:

- Laptops
- Mobile devices
- Access cards
- Storage devices
- Documents
- Security tokens
- Other equipment

Employees must not retain copies of confidential company information after leaving the organization unless explicitly authorized.

46. POLICY ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Employees are expected to read and understand this handbook.

By acknowledging the handbook, employees confirm that they have received access to the policies and understand that they are responsible for complying with applicable company policies.

Questions regarding this handbook should be directed to the Human Resources Department.

47. IMPORTANT CONTACTS

Human Resources: hr@nexora.example

IT Helpdesk: it-support@nexora.example

Information Security: security@nexora.example

Payroll: payroll@nexora.example

General Enquiries: contact@nexora.example

The email addresses above are examples for this sample handbook and are not real company contact addresses.

48. DOCUMENT CONTROL

Field	Information
Document Name	Employee Handbook
Document ID	HR-HBK-001
Version	3.0
Effective Date	January 1, 2026
Last Review Date	December 15, 2025
Review Frequency	Annual
Document Owner	Human Resources
Classification	Internal Use Only
Approved By	Chief People Officer
Next Review	December 2026

EMPLOYEE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I acknowledge that I have received and reviewed the Nexora Technologies Employee Handbook.

I understand that I am responsible for complying with the company policies applicable to my role.

I understand that this handbook may be updated from time to time and that I am responsible for following current company policies communicated through official channels.

Employee Name: _____

Employee ID: _____

Department: _____

Signature: _____

Date: _____

NEXORA TECHNOLOGIES PVT. LTD.

Internal Use Only — Controlled Document